Total Produce pays $ 300m for 45% of Dole, i.e. 9.0x EBITDA

Total Produce, one of the leading European fresh produce companies, has announced the acquisition of a 45% stake in Dole for a cash consideration of $ 300m. The deal brings together two leading fresh produce companies, with complementary market positions in various product segments and geographies. The transaction implies a Dole EV of $ 2 bn, i.e. 9x EBITDA 2016. Dole is one of the world's largest fresh fruit and vegetable producers and distributors. For the twelve months ended October 7, 2017, Dole generated revenue and adj. EBITDA of $ 4.5bn and $ 237m, respectively. Over the period FY-14/FY-17, Dole generated an average annual adj. EBITDA of $ 227m. The transaction structure implies Total Produce has the right, but not the obligation, to purchase in the next few years additional tranches up to 100% of Dole share capital for a total consideration equal to 9x three year average historical Dole adj. EBITDA less net debt. While logical from an industrial point of view, the outlay consideration and the size of the prey indicate some concerns in relation to future balance sheet integrity of the combined entity. Assuming a 100% consolidation of Dole and the announced $ 150m rights issue to partially finance the purchase, Total Produce+Dole is estimated to have sales of € 7.5bn, EBITDA of € 273m (3.6% margin) and net debt of € 1.6bn (5.7x EBITDA). Undoubtedly a weighty target: we might not exclude the possibility that the integration and rationalisation process could defocus the management temporarily. In addition, a potential buyer of Orsero has faded from the market.

Sector consolidation proceeds unrelenting

The sector is in the midst of a deep consolidation process. After the purchase of Fyffes by Sumitomo for 13.8x EBITDA in Dec-16, this news appears as a further acceleration of this trend, in an industry where volumes are a key aspect to leverage well structured, deep rooted distribution platforms. Orsero with the JV minorities buy-outs of last Jul-17, has started to use the fresh resources injected by Glenalta Food together with its cash flows to accelerate growth via acquisitions. We believe the group aims to grab some local opportunities in Italy, to develop partnerships in Europe with local producers and to target prey in adjacent but consistent bio-vegan, dried fruit and juices/puree product categories.

Transaction multiple highlights Orsero current depressed valuation

Simply applying the multiples paid for Dole to Orsero, the equity value obtained is significantly higher than current market value. We believe the Orsero current multiple discount to peers is not fully justified and has somewhat to fill the valuation gap, also considering higher than peer growth perspectives. We fine-tuned our estimates factoring in the € 20m cash in stemming from the sale of the participation in Acorsa JV and the € 8m payment related to a guarantee expired last Dec-17 of a loan granted in favour of Argentina, a company outside the current consolidation perimeter. We stick to our positive stance.

a BUY rating is assigned if the target price is at least 15% higher than the market price;

a SELL rating is assigned if the target price is at least 15% lower than the market price;

a NEUTRAL rating is assigned if the difference between the current price and target price lies within the +/ -15% bands identified using the preceding criteria.

The rating is determined on the basis of the expected absolute return 12 months forward and not on the basis of the estimated out/underperformance relative to a market index. Thus, the rating can be directly linked with the estimated percentage difference between current price and target price. The prices of the financial securities mentioned in the report (also used for the calculation of market capitalisation and market multiples) are the reference prices of the stock market trading day preceding the publication date of the report, otherwise stated.
